

The Daily Gazetteer.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 26. 1742.

No. 2087.

Vienna, Feb. 17.

OME Days ago there pass'd by this City a great Body of French and Bavarian Prisoners, and this Morning about 1000 more, with 35 Waggon's full of Sick and Wounded were forwarded to Hungary. They march in five Columns, the two first are French, after these follow the Waggon's, and then come three Columns of Bavarians. These Precautions are necessary to prevent their Quarrels upon the Road, for the Bavarians hate the French to such a Degree, that they are ready to seize any Opportunity of fighting with them, if the Guard of Horse that escorts them did not interpose to prevent it. Our Army in Bavaria is in a very flourishing Condition; they have Provision in Abundance, Numbers enter daily into our Service, and the Military Chest receives continual Supplies from the Contributions raised by our Hussars.

Prague, Feb. 17. It is conceived that the Inhabitants of this City would be easy enough under their new Master, if the French Forces were not Part of the Garrison; for with these they have continual Quarrels. To appease the Bohemians they are daily told, that the Marshal Belle-Isle is on the Road, and that as soon as he arrives all their Grievances shall be redressed. In the mean time it is certain, that if the Austrians were strong enough to act offensively in Bohemia, and to approach the City of Prague with their Army, it would throw all Things into Confusion, and in all Probability the Peasants would rise and join them where-ever they had an Opportunity, the Report of dividing this Kingdom between the King of Poland and his Imperial Majesty having irritated them to the last Degree. The French cause the Gates of this City to be shut till nine in the Morning, and do not suffer them to be open later than three in the Afternoon.

Ratisbon, Feb. 22. Notwithstanding all the Pains that can be taken by Count Rodolph de Palsi, who commands in Chief the Queen of Hungary's Forces in our Neighbourhood, we are under the utmost Uneasiness; the reason because we cannot tell how long the present Confusions may last. The Sickness of the Emperor is another very alarming Circumstance, and the more so, because we cannot have any distinct Account of his Disease, which some say is a Pleurisy, and others a Fever attended with a Spitting of Blood.

Paris, Feb. 23. It is now said with great Confidence that the King of Prussia has declar'd, that if the rest of the Allies will add 30000 Men to the like Number of his Forces, he will undertake to bring her Hungarian Majesty to accept the Offers that have been made her. Our Forces that are in their March to Bavaria consist of 42 Squadrons and 38 Battalions, making in all about 30000 Men.

Frankfort, Feb. 22. We have certain Advice from Moravia, that the King of Prussia carries Things there with a high Hand. By his Letters to the Circles of Oltmütz, Berrenau, Brinn and Rodisch, he demands that they should furnish him with a Contribution, which he has caus'd to be regulated at the Rate of 8, 10, and 20 Florins a House, according to the best Information that could be got of the Owner's Ability; he farther demands a Levy of 4 or 5000 Men to recruit his Army, and threatens to destroy the whole Country with Fire and Sword, in case his Demands are not complied with, and of this Advice has been given to the Court of Vienna.

Brussels, Feb. 26. Our chief Engineer has received Orders to go immediately to Ostend, and then to visit the Court of Schlick, and to draw up a Report of the necessary Repairs, and their Expence, to prevent that Port's running to Ruin. All the General Officers in our Service have received Part of their Arrears, and the like Care has been taken with respect to the Governors of the Towns and Fortresses in the Netherlands. It is said that a new Scheme for the Regulation of our Finances has been lately concerted, according to which both Officers and Soldiers will be constantly paid every Month. Mr. Kinschot, Resident from the States General, had some Days ago a long Conference with our Governor the Count de Harrach, since which it is reported that in Case of Necessity we shall be furnished with a Body of Auxiliary Forces for the Preservation of these Provinces.

Leyden, March 1. The famous Mr. William Jacob S. Graveland, Master of Arts, Doctor in Law and in Philosophy, Professor of Philosophy and the Mathematics, died here about Seven this Morning, and on account of his profound Learning, his Loss is much regretted. This illustrious Ornament of the Republic of Letters was born at Boisselue Sept. 28. 1688, and was appointed Mathematical and Astronomical Professor in this University June 22. 1717, and since that time was made Professor of Philosophy also. His easy and accurate Lectures on the Newtonian Philosophy have rendered him as much esteemed in foreign Countries, particularly in England, as here.

Hague, March 2. The Joy shewn by the Common People at the Thoughts of our assisting the Queen of Hungary is scarce to be express'd. There has been lately a very remarkable Pamphlet publish'd at Amsterdam, by an Officer of Distinction in the Service of the States, wherein he labours to shew that the Affairs of this Republick, both Civil and Military, were never in a better Condition than at present.

Extract of a private Letter from Brussels, Feb. 27.

In your Answer to my last, you seem'd to intimate that you apprehend some Partiality in the Advices I give you with respect to the Court of Vienna. Without question I wish as well to that Court as it becomes a Subject to do, but at the same time I would not abuse your Confidence, by relating any thing beside or beyond the Truth. I do not however take your Caution amiss, because I know it proceeds from Affection to the same Cause, and your Apprehension of having the Hopes my Letters give you blasted by subsequent Advices. Be not afraid, Sir, I write from good Authorities, and if my Accounts sometimes clash with those you have in the ordinary Way, Time will convince you that I am generally speaking in the right, but if I should be at any time mistaken, I shall not fail to own it in my next.

The last Letters from Vienna tell us, that all the World is charm'd with the Choice the Queen our Sovereign has made of Count Ulfeldt; who is for the future to have the Direction of Foreign Affairs. He is as candid and humane a Man as breathes, and with the Sagacity of an Italian and the Politeness of a Frenchman, has the good old German Sincerity at Heart and in his Speech. These Virtues of his are so well known, that all Foreign Ministers will confide in him, and rely upon whatever he says; which, as things stand at present, must be of infinite Consequence to the Queen's Affairs. The Bavarians are endeavouring to assemble a Body of six or eight thousand Men in order to join General Thoring, who is marching into that Country from Bohemia with an Army of 16,000. Count Khevenhuller, who has exact Intelligence of all the Enemy's Motions, is moving towards the Place where these Troops are to join, so that we expect that the very next Post will bring us News of a decisive Battle, which will determine the Fate of Bavaria, at least for some Months. There are likewise Letters from the Camp in Bohemia, which intimate, that we shall suddenly hear of the Austrians undertaking some important Enterprize, but whether against the French and Bavarians who are retiring towards Prague, or with a View to stop the Progress of his Prussian Majesty's Arms, is uncertain.

Our last Letters from Italy bring us some very important Particulars, and amongst the rest this, That the French Minister at the Court of Turin had demanded an Audience of his Sardinian Majesty on the 5th instant, wherein he told him, "That the King his Master hoped he would make no Difficulty of granting a Passage for 15,000 of his Troops, which were shortly to march into Italy in order to join those of the King of Spain." To which his Sardinian Majesty answered, "That it would always give him a sensible Pleasure to oblige the most Christian King, and therefore he thought it necessary to acquaint him sincerely with his present Intentions, which were, to make use of the 60,000 Men which he has now ready to take the Field, to oppose the Attempts of any Power that shall endeavour to disturb the Repose of Italy; and desired that he would acquaint the King his Master, that this was his final Resolution, in which he did not doubt but he should be powerfully supported by his Allies." The same Letters inform us, that a Treaty was not long ago concluded between the Swiss Cantons and his Sardinian Majesty, by which the former have stipulated to furnish that Prince with a considerable Body of Troops, whenever he shall find it necessary to take them into his Pay; and we are likewise told, that the Spanish General having some Information of the Steps taken to give him a proper Reception, does not make so much Haste as was expected to attack the Milanese. On the whole, Sir, it is certain, that if the Friends of the Queen our Sovereign will but assist her with such Supplies of Money as may enable her to perform the Engagements she has entered into with certain States, it will not be so easy to deprive her and her Consort of any Part of their Italian Dominions as the Allies imagin'd, nor will the late Choice of an Emperor contribute so much to have given out to change the Face of Affairs.

Beautifully printed in two large Volumes in Quarto, (Price bound, One Guinea)

THE HISTORY of POPERY, by several GENTLEMEN; being a full and genuine Account both of the Doctrines and Practices of the Papists, from the primitive Ages of Christianity, gradually carried on to the End of the Council of Trent.

This Work takes in all that is material of what was published in the Reigns of King Charles and King James II. Wrote by Henry Carr, Gent. And it is worth Observation, that of all the Writers that have appear'd in Defence of Popery, not one of them have ventured to reply to this Book any other way than by arraigning and condemning the Author of it; which was done at the King's Bench in the Guildhall of the City of London, by Judge Jeffries. To which are now added many curious Observations vouch'd by unquestionable Authorities, both of Papist and Protestant Writers. The Whole being dispos'd in a regular, concise, and familiar Manner. Adapted for the Entertainment of the more judicious Part of Mankind, and People of a lower Rank and Capacity may thereby be furnished to oppose the artful Sophistry of Priests and Jesuits, which are here traced thro' the darkest and most intricate Mazes of that Mystery of Iniquity.

To which is added, an Abridgment of the History of the Reformation, and of the Persecution in Queen Mary's Reign, chiefly extracted from Thuanus, Fox, Sicidan, Burnet, Strype, Rapin, and others.

Dr. ROBERT EATON'S

BALSAMICK STYPTICK,

Truly prepared and sold at the Doctor's late Dwelling House, now Mrs. DUTTON's, in Salisbury Court, Fleet-street.

THIS Medicine restrains, in a most surprising Manner, all internal as well as external Hemorrhages, i. e. it infallibly and quickly stops all dangerous bleedings at the Nose or Gums, spitting or vomiting Blood, also the immoderate Flux of the Hemorrhoids or Menstrue, bloody Urine or Stools, bleeding of large Wounds, &c. (it is used according to the plain Directions given with it) as will appear by the Certificates of several Eminent Physicians, and himself, and dedicated to the College of Physicians, a little before his Death.

It keeps good for many Years; at Sea or on Shore, at Home or Abroad, i. e. in all Climates; therefore must be universally Useful.

The Doctor not only obtained his Majesty's Letters Patent for the sole Vending of this most Excellent Medicine; but also a Clause in a late Act of Parliament, exempting this Medicine from the Inspection of the Censors of the College of Physicians, to which all other Medicines are liable.

N. B. The Learned Dr. CAYNE, in his Excellent First just published, intitled, The Natural Method of Curing the Diseases of the Body, &c. prefers EATON'S STYPTICK to Helvetius's and other Stypticks; and speaks of it as follows:—

"Every one knows the agglutinating Quality of sweet Blood, and I apprehend it is to this, that EATON'S Styptick owes its soft, mild, folding Efficacy." He says, "It is more mild, substantial and soft, than the mildest Diet, parations, and more fit to patch a Hole, or glue up a Rupture, or to give a Balsam to the acid and inflamed Bowels of the Patient; and, that he is confirmed in this, by a Physician of great Worth and Candor, who has great Opportunities of dealing in such Cases, by his Practice of Med. wifry." See p. 182.

For the EYES,

The so-much Fam'd CHYMICAL LIQUOR,

WHICH at once infallibly cures all INFLAMMATION, BLOODSHOT, SONERIES and WAXINESS of the EYES, Debuxions of sharp Humours, Dimness of Sight, Specks, Films, or beginning Cataracts, and that after all other Means have fail'd, and without causing the least Trouble or Uneasiness in using.

It directly heals and cures all Manner of Soreness of the Eyes in Children or grown Persons, tho' of many Years standing, be it either of the dry, itching and smarting Kind, or moist, rheumy or watering, and whether proceeding from the Evil, or any other Distemper.

It effectually takes away all Specks, Films, or incipient Cataracts to Admiration, as also all Flies or Gnats, that seem to swim before the Sight; it wonderfully strengthens the Optick Nerves, comforts the Eye, immediately removes all Dazzling and Dimness, clearing the Sight, and infallibly preserving it strong and good to exceeding old Age.

Hundreds who were so very dim-lighted for some Years, as scarcely able to distinguish any thing, and imagin'd their Age to be the Occasion, have been perfectly and almost instantly cured by it, so as to read the smallest Print without Spectacles; and for Ophthalmies, or Sore, Bloodshot, or Watery Eyes, no Medicine upon Earth can come near it. Thousands of Men, Women, and Children, have been cur'd by it of the very worst Sort, almost upon the Spot, and Blindness been prevented in abundance who had tried all other Remedies in vain, inasmuch that it may be almost accounted a miraculous Remedy.

No Family ought to be without it, nor ever will, after they have had but one Day's Experience of its admirable Efficacy.

It is to be had only, by the Author's Appointment, at the Gentlewoman's at the Two Blue Posts in Haydon-Yard in the Minories, London, at 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with printed Directions.

The uncommon Success, above Forty Years last past, of this so much fam'd and only true Original

ROYAL CHYMICAL WASH-BALL,

FOR beautifying the Face, Neck and Hands; hath induced many Envious Persons, not only in every Part of London, but in many Places in the County, to sell a Counterfeit White Ball (which may prove prejudicial as well as ineffectual) in Imitation of the true one.

To prevent as much as possible any Mistakes in Purchase to our Customers, we give this special Notice, That the True Sort are now sold only at Mrs. King's Toyshop, the Blue Coat Boy, against the Cross-Keys Tavern in Cornhill; and (last Mrs. Giles's Decease) by Mrs. Dunn, a Milliner, at the Blue Ball near the Inner Temple Gate in Fleet-street. Price 1 s. each Ball, or 12 to the Dozen; but no Allowance for less than 12 Balls at a Time, nor will they ever be sold any where else, except Notice be first given in these Advertisements of it.

Their true and real Virtues have been sufficiently attested in all the Years that they have been sold by Publication, and the more so, as they are still more than ever used and admired by both Sexes of the best Quality, and many Thousands of Gentry and others, for making the Skin so delicately soft and smooth, and as not to be paralleled by any Wash or Wash-ball, &c. of any Kind or Form; for these Balls are indeed real Beautifiers of the Skin, by taking off all Deformities, as Tetter, Ringworm, Morpew, Sunburn, Scurf, Pimples, Pits, or Redness of the Small-Pox, and keeping it of a lasting and extreme Whiteness. They soon alter red or rough Hands, are admirable in shaving the Head, not only giving a most exquisite Sharpness to the Razor, but to comfort the Brain and Nerves, as to prevent catching Cold. They are of a grateful and pleasant Scent, without the least Grain of Mercury, and may be eaten for their Safety.
